As anti-gay group protests, religious leaders will talk

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A diverse group of religious leaders will talk about tolerance today as an anti-gay group is scheduled to picket nearby. The event is open to the public.

The religious leaders will participate in a 90-minute panel discussion in City Council chambers at City Hall, 107 N. Nevada Ave., beginning at 3:30 p.m., the same time the Kansas-based Westboro Baptist Church is scheduled to picket City Hall. Westboro also will picket Poor Richard's Restaurant and the Gill Foundation.

The panel was organized by Citizens Project and the Pikes Peak InterReligious Clergy Alliance and will feature people who often disagree on homosexual issues. They include the Rev. Donald Armstrong of Grace and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Melissa Fryrear, gender policy analyst for Focus on the Family; the Rev. Lawrence Palmer of Unity Church of the Rockies; the Rev. Nori Rost of Pikes Peak Metropolitan Community Church; the Rev. Michael Sayler of First Baptist Church; Sister Dorothy Schlaeger of the Pikes Peak Justice and Peace Commission; and the Rev. James White of First Congregational Church United Church of Christ.

The panel will be moderated by the Rev. Bruce Coriell, Colorado College chaplain.

Ellie Collinson, executive director for Citizens Project, said Westboro's presence sparked dialogue among groups that don't normally agree. The panel, she said, is an effort to continue that dialogue.

, moisturize and beautify skin for ageless beauty.

enefits Your Skin

int and glowing complexion.

no acids for maximum daily repair.

Voted Best New Product Of 2004 By Day Spa Magazine!

sleep.

evening out your skin tones.

iates skin.

na hydroxy or Retin-A

nic. Non-comedogenic.

k Free Trial Offer

S

30 Day Unconditional Money Back Guarantee

ustomers are male!

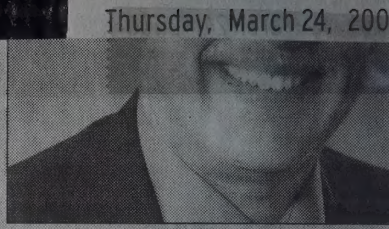
OD EATS

king? Wednesday. Food.

002

Gazette

gazette.com



DR. LYNN BEAULIEU, M.D

"There are needy people here whom I can help being a physician brings a responsibility of ser physician community establishes a program to t this is how I choose to give to the less fortunat

– Dr. Lynn Beaulieu

NOMINATED BY: S.E.T. OF COLORADO SP

Dr. Beaulieu has volunteered with SET for mor He assisted in establishing the first SET evening He regularly cares for uninsured, underinsured patients at the SET Medical Clinical at S

Ad sponsored by:

BKD

Stinar & Zendejas, LLC

003